Discussion

The Deputy Mayor thanked the community for their level of engagement and noted all submissions had been read.

Mayor McDouall joined the meeting at 10.15am and assumed the Chair.

Hearing of submissions

Speaker 1 – Jan Pavarno – Submission 100

Referring to her written submission on behalf of the New Zealand Motor Caravan Association (NZMCA) Special Interest Group, Sou'West Freewheelers, Jan Pavarno spoke in strong support of the Proposed Freedom Camping Bylaw. She stated that there were too many vehicles freedom camping for long periods of time. She highlighted the importance of defining 'Certified Self-contained' in the bylaw, and outlined the process to obtain Certified Self Contained vehicle status. Ms Pavarno raised concern that self-contained certification stickers could be brought without a verification process being undertaken. Enforcement of the bylaw was also highlighted as key, without enforcement, Ms Pavarno said the bylaw would be pointless.

Ms Pavarno provided insight into the travel habits of freewheelers and provided reasoning for feedback relating proposed restrictions in specific areas.

In response to a question from Whanganui Rural Community Board Member Peter Oskam, Ms Pavarno said she estimated 40% of freedom campers abused the current system.

Cr Vinsen asked if there were adequate provisions for disposing of litter. Ms Pavarno said that Freewheelers took their rubbish with them, however, rubbish bins would be used if provided.

In response to a question about maximum night restrictions, Ms Pavarno advised that her camper was self-contained and had capacity to stay four nights in any location without needing facilities.

Cr Chandulal-Mackay asked about how self-containment could be better defined within the Bylaw. Ms Pavarno said NZMCA had a stringent process in defining self-containment.

Speaker 2 – Di Valentine – Submission 032

Di Valentine referred to her written submission and supported Whanganui having a Freedom Camping Bylaw. Freedom camping sites at Babbage Place and Blyth Street were not supported. Concern was raised about the number of sites, and ability to undertake enforcement. She felt that having many sites with different rules could create confusion and disputes.

Ms Valentine explained that she had owned a motor home for over 15 years and outlined her observations from staying in freedom camping sites around New Zealand.

In particular, Ms Valentine felt that sites needed custom size parks to accommodate motor homes, clear and concise signage and road markings, and consistent rules across all sites. Ms Valentine said enforcement of the bylaw was important, and a process for allocating designated spots for the duration of stay at a specific site was paramount.

Ms Valentine suggested that the maximum nights should be on a per month basis to avoid freedom campers from jumping from site to site.

Cr Taylor asked whether Ms Valentine saw issue with increasing maximum nights to four, she replied no.

Cr Crossan queried the process for self-containment certification. Ms Valentine said the New Zealand Motor Caravan Association (NZMCA) was a popular authority for issuing certification and was not limited to membership. She added that a qualified self-containment testing officer could also inspect and issue certification.

Speaker 3 – Greg Enderby – Submission 007

Greg Enderby presented his submission via Zoom and supported Whanganui having a Freedom Camping Bylaw. He said that he and his wife owned a house bus and had previously stayed at the Jubilee Stadium Carpark, Kowhai Park, Wanganui East Club, and Caroline's Outback Camping Ground. He added that his submission was based on observations made during this time.

Mr Enderby offered insight into site conflict. He explained that the New Zealand Motor Caravan Association (NZMCA) had extremely high standards, and their rules only applied to NZMCA parks. He added these rules were not typical of Council managed freedom camping locations and caused disputes between campers. Encounters of night time anti-social behaviour by local boy racers at the Jubilee Stadium site was also spoken about and described as unsettling.

Mr Enderby raised concern with people who were homeless basing themselves at freedom camping locations. He sympathised with their housing situation, but felt the untidiness and anti-social behaviour by some people was tarnishing the reputation of freedom campers, and was 'not a good look' for freedom camping locations in Whanganui.

Adequate signage and enforcement of the Bylaw was viewed as critically important by Mr Enderby. He stated it needed to be informative, positive, and consistent. He referred to Napier City Council's enforcement methods as an excellent working example.

Speaker 4 – Warrick Cox – Submission 044

Warrick Cox referred to his submission, and advised his views had changed. He was in support of the Bylaw but did not support the freedom camping site at the Mowhanau lookout carpark. He added that he and his partner lived at Mowhanau Beach, and his submission was based on this proposed site.

Mr Cox said he had spoken to a number of Mowhanau beach residents. After establishing the exact location, he no longer supported this freedom camping site. He spoke about perceived land stability issues at the lookout, freedom campers inhibiting his sea view, and the sites close proximity to the Mowhanau Campground and the detrimental effect freedom camping would have on this business.

Mr Cox suggested an alternative site on the grass area opposite the lookout. He also suggested buffer zone be extended to include all of Sunset Parade and Tangi Street, adequate signage be indicating these zones be displayed at the Mowhanau beach carpark.

Cr Taylor queried the impact reconsidering the Mowhanau site would have on drafting the Bylaw. Justin Walters, Senior Policy Analyst, said it was a matter of scope and the nature of the changed proposed. He added that a review would be conducted in two years and this provided an opportunity to amend the Bylaw.

Mayor McDouall, asked if moving the Mowhanau site across the road was considered in scope. Council's Senior Policy Analyst replied yes.

Cr Taylor asked if the community had come to a consensus on the suggestions made. Mr Cox said his suggestions were based on individual discussions with Sunset Drive and Tangi Street residents, and feedback from submitters on the Mowhanau site.

Following up on his previous question, Cr Taylor asked if there had been any opposition to the alternative site suggested. Mr Cox said a historic decision making body may have placed restrictions on the site, however, this had not confirmed.

Cr Joblin asked about the number of campers Mr Cox had observed during his six years living at Mowhanau Beach. Mr Cox said, on average, two campers stayed one night per month.

Speaker 5 – Hayden Potaka – Submission 101

Referring to his written submission on behalf of the Whanganui Maori Regional Tourism Organisation, Hayden Potaka spoke against the Proposed Freedom Camping Bylaw. He stated that freedom camping was initiated to increase accommodation capacity for international tourist attending the 2011 Rugby World Cup.

Mr Potaka was particularly against freedom camping on the Whanganui River Road. He said locals living on the River Road had expressed concerns about the lack of ablutions available, and the impact that had on the environment.

Mayor McDouall asked if it was better to channel freedom campers into specific sites via a bylaw, or leave it unrestricted. In response, Mr Potaka said freedom campers should be use campgrounds in the first instance.

The meeting adjourned from 11.15am – 11.33am

Speaker 6 – Leanne Horne – Submission 088

Leanne Horne referred to her submission and spoke in favour of Whanganui having a Freedom Camping Bylaw. She added that rules were importance to keep freedom camping sites attractive. Ms Horne wanted to ensure that local people impacted by the housing crisis, who had achieved self-containment, would not be disadvantaged by this bylaw. She suggested that locals were granted a maximum of 5 nights per location.

Cr Baker-Hogan asked if freedom camping was the correct mechanism to address homelessness. Ms Horne said she didn't considered locals who achieved self-containment, and used freedom camping sites as homeless.

Speaker 7 – Tom Morton – Submission 109

Tom Morton did not support the proposed freedom camping bylaw. He stated the Freedom Camping Act 2011 was sufficient.

Mr Morton explained that after an extended period away, he had returned to New Zealand and due to the high cost of housing, embraced the freedom camping lifestyle. He said he often freedom camped in Whanganui and commended the Council on the provision.

Mr Morton referred to the proposed Blyth Street freedom camping site. He said freedom camping sites ideally needed to be close to a local store and toilets, but did not need to be situated at main tourist locations. He suggested that freedom camping sites located in troublesome areas could deter antisocial behaviour by locals.

Cr Chandulal-Mackay asked if the proposed bylaw had the right balance. Mr Morton replied that Yes, and added that freedom camping should be prohibited at main tourist locations.

Speaker 8 – Jo Meiklejohn – Submission 114

Jo Meiklejohn refereed to her submission and stated that she was strongly against the Council enacting a Freedom Camping Bylaw. She added that her submission was based on her past experience as a freedom camper, and her former compliance role at the Whanganui District Council.

Ms Meiklejohn stated that enforcement of the bylaw would be difficult and costly, and the proposed restricted and prohibited areas would be polluted with signage.

Ms Meiklejohn criticised the proposed freedom camping sites that were located close to schools, parks, and the Durie Hill Elevator. She added that these sites put children and young people at risk.

Cr Chandulal-Mackay asked if the definition of freedom camping contained within the proposed Freedom Camping Bylaw was sufficient. Ms Meiklejohn said no. She added that the Freedom Camping Act 2011 did not contain a definition, and if an infringement was challenged, the Act took precedent over the bylaw.

Cr Rob referred to impracticality of enforcement mentioned in Ms Meiklejohn's submission, and requested further clarification. Ms Meiklejohn said monitoring all sites, seven days a week was unpractical, and also costly.

Speaker 9 – Darryl and Jackie Dowman – Submission 143

Darryl Dowman, spoke to his submission. He advised that he and his wife Jackie owned Lakelands Holiday Park, Wiritoa, Whanganui. He stated that enforcement for 12 sites was not practical. He added that freedom campers brought minimal economic benefit to Whanganui and suggested that two sites situated on the outskirts of town would suffice, easy to maintain, and less costly to the ratepayer. Landguard Bluff was suggested as a suitable area.

Mr Dowman stated that campers visiting Whanganui should be supporting holiday parks.

Mayor McDouall thanked Mr Dowman for his submission. He added that Landguard Bluff was a good suggestion, however, due to consultation requirements, would need to be addressed when the Bylaw came up for review.

Cr Vinsen asked if a reduction in freedom camping sites would result in freedom campers parking on the side of the road. In response Mr Dowman said no, and added that enforcement of two large sites would be easier to manage than multiple smaller sites.

Speaker 10 – Donald Putan – Submission 147

Donald Putan referred to his submission and spoke to it via Zoom. Mr Putan stated that the proposed Freedom Camping Bylaw should be expanded to include tenting and referred to the freedom camping approach taken in Gisborne. He added that tourists who travelled on bicycles or on foot should also be permitted to stay at freedom camping sites in Whanganui.

Mr Putan identified a risk with restricting camping gear to be kept inside the vehicle. He said gas cookers should be used outside to prevent carbon monoxide poisoning.

Mayor McDouall asked if campervans clustered together affected people camping in tents. Mr Putan said, there should be designated areas for campervans and tents, and that tent sites needed to be situated near toilet facilities.

Speaker 11 – Tim Metcalfe – Submission 146

Speaking on behalf of Safer Whanganui, Tim Metcalfe referred to their submission. He explained that Whanganui was experiencing a serious housing shortage, and members of our community who were homeless, were living transiently in vehicles and makeshift forms of accommodation.

It was the view of Safer Whanganui that restricting length of stay, and standard of vehicle for freedom camping locations would be detrimental to people who were homeless. He referred to the Anzac Parade location used during the recent national lockdown.

Mr Metcalfe advised that a Freedom Camping (Infringement Offences and Other Matters) Amendment Bill was before Parliament. He suggested the Proposed Freedom Camping Bylaw be placed on hold until the private member's bill was clear.

Cr Reid suggested that our homeless community could move from site to site to avoid overstaying at any one location. Mr Metcalf said that there was a high degree of risk when grouping highly vulnerable people together.

Cr Joblin asked if Safer Whanganui were concerned with people who were homeless attracting infringements. Mr Metcalfe said yes.

Cr Joblin asked if a process that ensured generally homeless people did not occur infringements would ease concern. Mr Metcalfe said yes.

Speaker 12 – Tracey Munroe – Submission 066

Tracey Munroe referred to her submission, and was in favour of Whanganui having a Freedom Camping Bylaw. She explained that she had lived in a large house bus for 15 years, and her submission was based on her experience. She said that large house buses struggled to fit into average size parks, and suggested that parks at freedom camping locations accommodate this.

Mayor McDouall asked about restrictions on length of stay. Ms Munroe said that two weeks would be helpful.

Ms Munroe raised concerns for vulnerable woman living in cars, and how they would manage if they had to move every few days to avoid infringement.

Cr Craig asked about preferred length of stay and location. Ms Munroe said that she preferred to stay in one location for two weeks, and picked the location based on space to park her bus. She added that she had a dog which prevented her staying in holiday parks.

Cr Taylor asked Ms Munroe, given the size of her bus, how she got around town. She said a car was towed behind her house bus.

Cr Taylor asked what percentage of freedom campers had big buses. Ms Munroe said 10 percent.

The meeting adjourned from 12.56pm – 1.36pm

Deliberations

Discussion

Officers summarised the reasons behind the bylaw and the process for deliberations. They emphasised no bylaw meant freedom camping was allowed anywhere.

Councillors agreed to introduce a bylaw to limit freedom camping.

Councillors discussed enforcement of the bylaw. Budgets for 2023/2024 have been allocated to enforce the Bylaw.

Cr Joblin expressed concerns homeless people would be unduly affected by the bylaw. The Group Manager – Corporate suggested a statement of approach be drafted, outlining Council's approach to enforcement. The intent is to ensure homeless people are not disproportionately affected by the bylaw. Councillors agreed to develop guidance for Council staff on the implementation of the Freedom Camping Bylaw 2021 in conjunction with Safer Whanganui.

Councillors voted to implement a default four night limit over a four week period unless otherwise specified. The default four-night period was increased to allow for events and long weekends. Cr Vinsen disagreed and felt an increase to four nights was sufficient.

Cr Vinsen asked whether it would be better to use the term 'calendar month' or '4 week period'. Cr Taylor expressed concerns a four week period would be difficult from a Compliance perspective. Cr Vinsen pointed out any issues with the four week period could be dealt with when the bylaw is reviewed.

Councillors agreed to implement buffer zones of 500m (by default) around the radius of each freedom camping spot. Buffer zones are areas where no camping is allowed and are intended to funnel users away from prohibited areas. Buffer zones are to be communicated by publishing maps through the web, the i-Site, and the New Zealand Motor Caravan Association. Cr Baker-Hogan expressed concerns differing buffer zones would create ambiguity. Officers answered buffer zones were determined according to the character of the area.

Councillors were concerned freedom campers would affect the amenity of popular local attractions. Crs Joblin and Chandulal-Mackay felt Blyth St and Pukenamu Queen's Park should be banned. Cr Craig agreed and felt Babbage Place should also be banned. Babbage Place did not have sufficient lighting, while Blyth St and Pukenamu Queen's Park were considered iconic local attractions. Cr Crossan agreed with the above and felt Mowhanau should also be banned. Cr Reid suggested 8 of the 12 sites needed to be banned as they had commercial campgrounds nearby.

Babbage Place

Councillors agreed to retain restrictions as per officer recommendation, subject to amendment of the default number of nights (four nights over a four-week period). Crs Chandulal-Mackay and Joblin felt Babbage Place could be a suitable spot if more lighting was installed there. Cr Young felt Babbage Place could be a good camping site for entrants into Whanganui. Mayor McDouall agreed with Cr Young, pointing out that Babbage Place had family-friendly facilities nearby.

Bason Botanic Gardens

Councillors unanimously agreed to ban freedom camping at Bason Botanic Gardens.

Blyth St

Councillors felt it appropriate to ban freedom camping at Blyth St. Blyth St is a high-profile tourist attraction and they felt freedom camping would negatively affect the amenity of the area.

Castlecliff Beach

Councillors agreed to retain restrictions as per officer recommendation. Cr Reid felt it was best to ban freedom camping here, as there is a campground nearby. Mayor McDouall explained it is illegal to ban freedom camping for solely commercial reasons, but expressed sympathy for the campground's owners. Cr Duncan asked Councillors to treat all sites with nearby campgrounds consistently.

Cr Craig pointed out freedom campers helped deter boy racing activity in the area. Cr Chandulal-Mackay supported retaining the existing restrictions.

CBD

Councillors unanimously agreed to prohibit freedom camping in the CBD.

Kowhai Park

The majority of Councillors supported restricting freedom camping to 3 tents and 10 vehicles along the carpark to the stopbank.

In response to questions, the Senior Policy Analyst stated the designated area could include restricted tent numbers. Mayor McDouall felt tents should be allowed. Cr Baker-Hogan expressed concerns the nearby motorboat club would be negatively impacted by tents. Cr Craig suggested closing freedom camping sites during events. The draft bylaw allows site closures to improve public access when events are planned.

Kowhai Park – otherwise prohibited

The majority of Councillors supported a ban on freedom camping in the remainder of Kowhai Park.

Moutoa Quay

Councillors agreed to allow a maximum 2 night stay, except Cr Reid. He preferred a total ban, as he believed allowing camping at Moutoa Quay ran contrary to the CBD ban.

Cr Craig agreed with imposing restrictions but proposed a 2 night maximum due to concerns about parking.

Mayor McDouall agreed with allowing camping at night only. Cr Joblin agreed with the existing officer recommendation, observing no submitters had commented on the matter.

Cr Reid suggested enacting time restrictions on the site during the day due to concerns about parking access. This will have to be addressed through a separate process.

Mowhanau

Councillors agreed to allow restricted freedom camping on the suggested site subject to a safety audit regarding the cliff edge.

Councillors also approved a 700m buffer zone around the designated site. This would ensure there would be no freedom camping in Mowhanau apart from the designated area.

Councillors considered moving the site across the road, away from the cliff edge.

Cr Crossan felt Mowhanau should be banned as the proposed site had insufficient space, plus there was a campground not far from the proposed site. Mr Dick felt the site should be banned for safety reasons.

Cr Craig suggested opening up the nearby toilets for longer to support users of the site. Alternatively, she suggested a ban as the site is not used frequently at present.

Pukenamu Queen's Park

Councillors agreed to ban freedom camping at Pukenamu. Pukenamu is a popular public place and Councillors felt freedom camping would affect the amenity of the area.

River Road

Councillors agreed to limit freedom camping to 2 nights in response to ongoing iwi consultation. The 2-night restriction is intended as an interim measure while consultation continues and will be reviewed in 18 to 24 months. Cr Vinsen felt the restriction should be 4 nights to avoid confusion with other sites. The Group Manager – Corporate explained iwi were consulted on a 2 night restriction with the understanding consultation would be ongoing.

Cr Taylor expressed concerns allowing freedom camping would interfere with ONL designation of the site.

Cr Joblin suggested prohibition due to the river's legal status.

Cr Craig asked about iwi consultation. The Policy Advisor and Group Manager – Corporate explained consultation was ongoing. During consultation to date iwi groups were happy with a 2 night restriction.

Springvale Park – Jubilee Stadium Carpark

Councillors agreed to limit freedom camping to 4 nights and 10 vehicles. Councillors agreed with the recommended amendment to Schedule 1, Clause 1(b) restricting freedom camping to clearly marked spaces.

Cr Baker-Hogan felt there should be a total ban for the safety of patrons and students and for visual reasons. Mayor McDouall pointed out the site was requested by the New Zealand Motor Caravan Association and Council had endorsed their request. He added the site was functioning well but a more CBD-friendly alternative would be needed soon. Cr Vinsen supported allowing freedom camping with restrictions as it had facilities for motorhome users.

Springvale Park – remainder

Councillors unanimously agreed to ban freedom camping for the remainder of Springvale Park.

Taupo Quay

Councillors agreed to adopt officer-recommended restrictions subject to the change in default number of nights (four days per four weeks).

Westmere Lake

Councillors agreed to restrict freedom camping as per officer recommendations. They also agreed to extend the buffer zone from 500m to 600m to cover Westmere Primary School. Crs Reid and Craig felt there should be a total ban due to the natural beauty of the site and a lack of room.

Other changes

Councillors asked for Schedule 1, Clause 1(h) to be amended to allow gas cooking to take place outside. This was a response to submitters' concerns around indoor gas cooking causing carbon monoxide poisoning.

Councillors agreed to amend the default start time to 5pm to 10am instead of 7pm to 10am, as it was felt 7pm would be too late during winter. In practice, this only affects Babbage Place.

Technical changes

Councillors agreed to update the bylaw to reflect the enactment of the Legislation Act 2019.

Final comments

Mayor McDouall explained the process had been long and controversial. He acknowledged the diversity of opinions. Freedom camping is legal and Council needed to enact a bylaw in order to protect local areas. Cr Craig and Mayor McDouall encouraged the public to use campgrounds where available.

Cr Vinsen was supportive of the bylaw. He felt Whanganui did not have major issues with freedom camping and Council could take a more relaxed approach to enforcement. Cr Joblin expected an educational approach to enforcement and asked homeless people be treated with care.

Committee Resolution PBC/2021/27
