

WHANGANUI DISTRICT COUNCIL
Te Kaunihera a Rohe o Whanganui

Solid Waste Bylaw 2024

Submissions Received

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 1
reference 801021902243220
First name Ian
Last name Jones

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I disagree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

This adds yet another layer of beurocracy for organizers to have to go thru. This will also increase council staff time and requirements to approve , monitor and follow up. With the need to keep our rates as low as possible this will not help. May put organizers off from wanting to put on events in Whanganui.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I disagree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

Adding another layer of costs to the rate payer.

The providers WILL PASS ON THE EXTRA COST FOR COLLECTING THIS DATA.

This may exclude other operators from starting up.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I disagree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Adding yet more costs to the rate payer. The facility will pass the license costs on.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

Your mention the govt creating infringement notices. I thought this was a council initiative.

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 2
reference 935021905244820
First name Justine
Last name Burgess

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Organisers will know what's expected of them with council help, this will keep the area clean and tidy afterwards

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

The cost to users may go up as this might require extra work from the companies

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Regulate and be able to control what happens in the future

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 3
reference 312021625245022
First name Ann
Last name Blackwell

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 4
reference 853021628241122
First name Christine
Last name Ruokonummi

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 5
reference 860021751245722
First name Kayla
Last name Young

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Because I come from auckland and working in large scale Events for 20yrs as a co ordinator and this law is already in use up there and works extremely well. So I agree this should happen.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

Same reasons as above.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

This would just be common sense.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

Again common sense.

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 6
reference 515021942243822
First name Lynette
Last name Newby

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 7
reference 717020905240423
First name Sue
Last name White

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Waste management affects us all. If we choose to attend an event, we need to be accountable for how our event disposes of waste responsibly. The cost of waste management needs to be factored into event pricing. All major events should have a plan, this ensures waste management is not overlooked.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

It's reasonable that our community pulls together on this issue. If operators want to participate in this industry, it is time for them to collaborate and become a responsible part of the overall management plan.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Governance now, saves rectification in the future.
Manage the risks.
Ensure educated Governance.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

There are always some people who disregard the greater good. They need sanctions to support change. The council people responsible for waste monitoring need some teeth.

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 8
reference 028020619243924
First name irene
Last name davis

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

If the council is truly following the "green environment and climate change " issues-, then wastemanagement should be a piorority to manage all the unregulated polluters of the community and industries.everyone with a licence or business to manufacture etc is accountable and should be monitored/measured etc.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

everyone has a moral and ethical!!! responsibility that if they take on this licence to be accountable even more so to what and how they manage the waste and their should be more industry promotion and evelopment or re-use/ recycle of products a focus and reducing toxic plastics/polysurene etc.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

there is knowledge and development of waste disposal in europe where everything is burnt off - in a non toxic manner ad the energy/heat produced is recycled back as electricity for the community - we have an oppotunity to start this in NZ, there is even facilitys of sporting areas on the rooftop in Copenhagen waste managment plant - open your eyes and look at what is already working overseas, e do not have to rinvent the wheel!!!!

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

if you do not enforce then it is ignored, and thre is no purpose- we need to be regulated, enforced to ensure the principles are withheld

Further comments

the council need to be more diligent in this - the flow on effort is greater than you can envisage- look to europe!!!!

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 9
reference 865022051243526
First name Jo
Last name Chiet

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 10
reference 853021404242229
First name Jane
Last name Exmoor

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Maybe needing a plan for waste from large events will help organisers think twice about offering plastic food containers etc . It makes sense to discourage thoughtless behaviour such as single use of tents.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

Council needs to oversee all the above to make sure profits aren't put before careless bulk dumping of rubbish eg Brunswick Rd rubbish driven into a yard by trucks and polluting fire smelt several kilometres away.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

As above, to protect the environment and people's health. Council would be able to make it clear where rubbish should be taken once they find out what's happening right now.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

Pretty sure the thought of a fine or being in the spotlight is the only thing that will make some of us toe the line!

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 11
reference 857031301244206
First name Marian Last name Barclay

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Organisers, and by implication participants, should be responsible for cleaning up their waste and disposing of it in a responsible manner.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I neither agree nor disagree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

Could they not do it voluntarily, and without a licence?

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I neither agree nor disagree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Why not simply prove that they have a suitable place for disposal?

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I neither agree nor disagree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

Why did it not happen?

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 12
reference 305032010245708
First name Angela
Last name Stratton

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Event organisers need to tidy up after themselves, not leave it for others.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

I believe council should do rubbish collection, not let private companies profit from us; certainly keep track of what they're doing, the profiteers.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Waste can be dangerous, we need to know what is going where.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

About waste, not around it. Let's make money from those who don't follow the rules.

Further comments

Chas Poynter said Wanganui should be a zero waste city, which was probably the most sensible thing he ever said. Can we try to stop bringing in so much rubbish? Eg, plastic bottles of water and milk, most of Crackerjack's stock, half of Mitre 10. Wanganui, city of design and quality ☐

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID	13
reference	101031430240712
First name	Hadi
Last name	Gurton
Organisation	Sustainable Whanganui Trust
Role	Chair, zero waste trustee

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

I agree with this proposal because it will result in less rubbish to landfill being generated, by ~

- 1) waste minimization becomes integral to event planning, well in advance of date, rather than just an afterthought, as tends to be the case currently;
- 2) event planners source more sustainable products earlier on and advise participants to use recyclable or compostable products in plenty of time (pre-cycling);
- 3) with a plan, events can prepare for and order better waste minimisation facilities, eg loan of bins or trailer from WRRC.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

Improving stats helps drive waste minimization efforts.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Waste disposal at unlicensed (and therefore unregulated) sites is potentially dangerous.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

There needs to be sanctions for wrongdoers. It's time to get serious about waste!

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 14
reference 568031612240015
First name Mike
Last name Henderson

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

The costs of registering a plan should be as low as possible, no more than marginal cost recovery.
There should be a significant penalty for failing to have & register a plan, so as to provide a major incentive to comply

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

The costs of obtaining a license should be moderate, Council should not treat this as a significant income stream
There should be a significant penalty for operating a waste collection service without a license, so as to provide a major incentive to comply

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

The costs of obtaining a license should not be unreasonable
There should be a very significant penalty for operating a waste disposal without a license, so as to provide a major incentive to comply. A non-compliant activity could constitute a major environmental or human health hazard

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

If activities are of such a nature that they might pose a danger to environmental or human health, then they should be regulated.
A regulated activity that lacks enforcement provisions is a "toothless tiger" and a waste of effort.
To be useful, enforcement provisions must be backed up with enforcement actions.

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 15
reference 943031640244015
First name Jim
Last name White

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Simple response to this question "User Pays"

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

With data collection council would have difficulty in future planning

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Council should. Be aware of disposal facilities to ensure they meet Central Government requirements

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I neither agree nor disagree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

I would need more information before I could comment on this subject.

If the solid waste bylaw is clear and concise and contains fair and reasonable restrictions infringement notices should not be needed.

A BIG BROTHER approach should not be necessary for Councils

Further comments

I am concerned with councils approach to Kirbside collection and would be interested in being involved in decisions regarding its planning. My interest is in regards to invalid and aged ratepayers having to deal with up to five bins to be taken and removed from the Kirby on a weekly basis

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 16
reference 013031722240215
First name i
Last name bartlet

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

they make money and should pay to and provide data for the safety and cost management.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 17
reference 200031741245615
First name Edward
Last name Minnell

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I disagree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I neither agree nor disagree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I disagree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

This would already come under Horizons. All that would be achieved is extra layers of bureaucracy and cost.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 18
reference 709031945243815
First name Glen
Last name Blythe

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I disagree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Makes costs go up, they keep hiking prices

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I disagree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

Prices, shouldn't have to pay 5.50 for stickers that's like daylight robbery

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I disagree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Prices going up

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I disagree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

Prices

Further comments

Lower the levy that rubbish companies have to pay

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 19
reference 531030809243316
First name Jack
Last name Ponting

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I neither agree nor disagree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

I'm leaving this one for 'those in the know' to decide what regulations are workable and appropriate.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I neither agree nor disagree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

I'm leaving this one for 'those in the know' to decide what regulations are workable and appropriate.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I neither agree nor disagree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

I'm leaving this one for 'those in the know' to decide what regulations are workable and appropriate.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

Well-thought-through and collaborative thinking is needed for this.

Further comments

If it is appropriate, could there be a place to dump concrete waste and tree stumps. So many people I know have chunks of concrete and tree stumps that sit on their property (mine included) because there is no place that is accepting such (that I am aware of).

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 20
reference 120031034243516
First name Bev
Last name Waugh

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Individuals should be responsible for their own rubbish and reduce it or dispose of it in line with circular economy philosophy and with respect to the planet

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

we are all responsible for reducing of or disposing of our waste in a responsible way

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Waste disposal facilities are a necessity in our modern society but they need to be environmentally sound - modern contained securely built well attractively designed landfill areas with the tight control of transportation of non organic waste can be a resource with the harvesting of emitted methane which can then be used for electricity generation... organic waste disposal should be composted or digested with education hopefully people will reduce the waste

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 21
reference 932031751241116
First name Barbara
Last name Gray

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

While the council is proposing that 'Larger Scale Events' have a waste management plan, it is rather unclear what events these may refer to apart from the examples mentioned. I think this could be clarified.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Further comments

It does not mention what areas will be involved in the recycling pick up and whether or not those who live rurally will be included. If not, can we still have the option of dropping our recycling at the recycling station as we do now, which is my preferred method anyway.

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 22
reference 201031413240818
First name Bryce
Last name Esquilant

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I neither agree nor disagree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Depending on the size of event.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

Better responsibility and data collected.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Reasonability and accountability are assured.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 23
reference 071030846242319
First name Scott
Last name Phillips

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

Yes a license should be required to operate a waste business, but any additional compliance costs with licensing should be kept to a minimum assuming the company is compliant with requirements. Waste collection is already expensive, adding more costs to companies will only get passed on to consumers

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

This is a no brainer, without punishment the rules are not use

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 24
reference 086031148243219
First name Malcolm
Last name Affleck

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I disagree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

you contracted it out

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I disagree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I disagree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Further comments

If you had NOT contracted out rubbish collections then you could have collected data

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 25
reference 871031357242319
First name Brian
Last name Milham

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

You just have to drive past the Springvale Park area after a big sporting event to see what has been left behind

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

Will make future Council planning much easier

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

Yes - very important. Council need to be made aware of what is being dumped there. Knowing this data will help in allowing Council to decide on the future land use of that particular area.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

This will make users of the facilities more responsible and careful of what is being dumped.

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 26
reference 422031608242819
First name Diane
Last name Paterson

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Thinking through a waste management plan would encourage event organizers to think of ways to mitigate the creation of waste - or perhaps ways to host an event with little to no waste.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I agree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

WDC will have a better grasp of the waste produced in the district. I imagine WDC will be able to set more accurate reduction targets. Perhaps this information will facilitate better communication between groups (council, companies, recycling centers) when setting targets around reuse, recycling and waste reduction.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

It is very important to manage these sites well and to choose the location carefully.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

Comments

Communities are distressed by illegal dumping of waste and by those who do not respect the environment. I hope this bylaw will enable more ways to encourage responsible waste disposal.

Further comments

Keep up the good work.

Solid Waste Bylaw

ID 27
reference 108032026241319
First name Nick
Last name Sarup

Not Speaking

Events

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw requires certain events to have a waste management plan, and to report to council on how waste management was handled. This would only apply to bigger events.

Answer

I agree that larger events should have a waste management plan and have to report back to council on their plan

Comments

Tackling waste is everyone's responsibility including organisers of events of significant scale. Organising big events though good for the economy should not trade off our environmental responsibilities.

Data Collection

The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw will require all private waste collectors operating in the Whanganui District to acquire a licence, which will allow council to collect the above data from them. This information can then be used to guide council processes and planning around waste in the district.

Answer

I disagree that private waste collection companies should need a licence to operate

Comments

Though it will be great to understand the type of waste and possible actions to recycle recycleable products, emphasis should be on encouraging general public to recycle and create awareness. If more people recycled, probably there will be less waste going to landfill and the need to understand types of waste.
More than likely data from waste collection companies will come at a cost, might be better to invest in methods to ensure only rubbish ends up as waste.

Managing Waste Disposal Facilities

Currently the Whanganui District has no landfills or other private waste disposal facilities. The proposed Solid Waste Bylaw would require any such facility to acquire a licence from council before opening in the district.

Answer

I agree that waste disposal facilities should need a licence to operate in Whanganui

Comments

To ensure the companies are managing waste correctly and not creating any further environmental concerns. The operators have considered all the Health & Safety aspects and have sustainable methods of managing waste.

Enforcement

Councils can prosecute offences under a bylaw against individuals, event organisers, and private waste collection companies. The proposed bylaw also creates remedies specifically in relation to kerbside services which can include written warnings, withdrawal of services, or reclaiming kerbside bins from people who break the rules multiple times.

Answer

I agree that there should be offences for breaking our rules around waste

Comments

To ensure everyone plays their part diligently. In saying that, waste disposal, especially like batteries, empty tins of paint etc. should be made easier and encourage people to do the right thing. An annual/bi-annual hazardous substances waste disposal initiative from the council is great but not necessarily convenient for people with small volumes of such products.