

Climate change engagement opens

Share your ideas and insights with us

Whanganui District Council is engaging with the community to gather ideas on how Whanganui can become a resilient district in the face of climate change.

We will be out and about meeting with people in a variety of locations across town, which will be advertised on our website and Facebook page.

There is a range of ways to share your ideas and insights with us:

- Visit our website at www.whanganui.govt.nz/haveyoursay and take our online survey
- Share your ideas in an online forum at Viewpoint Whanganui: whatdoyouthink.org.nz
- Email your thoughts to policysubmissions@whanganui.govt.nz
- Post your feedback into one of our suggestion boxes at libraries and other locations around town
- Collect and complete feedback forms at Whanganui District Council, 101 Guyton Street

Our discussion document may help as a starting point. You can download this from our website or pick up a copy from libraries and other locations around town.

Community feedback will help shape and guide the Council's response to the challenges of climate change, informing its strategic direction and influencing Council policies, processes and initiatives.
